Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on September 15, 2004 has been entered.

Examiner's suggestion: The claim languages are claiming the claim invention broadly. Most of graphical applications can create different graphical objects with different display attributes. Applicant should specify the significance of creating graphical objects. Applicant should specify how do the graphical objects form? Is it by detecting simultaneously the detail specifications of (for example hardware/software)?

Examiner encourages applicant to schedule an interview.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1-7, 9-19 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter, which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The term “non-spatially distinguishable” in claims 1, 2, 6, 9, 10, 11, 13, 14 and 18 was not described in the specification. Applicant should provide an explicit definition corresponding to the invention.

The rejection under claim 1 applies for the rest of the Applicant’s claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-7, 9-19 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Mastering Windows 3.1 special edition (hereinafter referred as a MW3).

1. Claims 1-7 and 9-19.

MW3 on page 105 fig. 4.2 illustrates a method of displaying layered data. MW3 on the same page selected a root directory object and displayed in a plurality of subdirectories (layers). MW3 on pages 112-113 illustrates graphical objects (icons with different attributes: size, shape, texture, text, symbol) to identify a plurality of non-spatially distinguishable display attributes, wherein one or more of the non-spatially distinguishable display attributes corresponds to each of the layers. MW3 on pages 112-113 illustrates different icons, which match each of the objects to one of the layers. MW# on page 119 in fig. 4.8 illustrates four type of layers (as file type), the files with an extension of hlp considers a layer of help files which represented by graphical objects (icons) with display attributes corresponding to the layer for each of the matched objected. MW3 on page 105 in fig. 4.2 illustrates root directory, subdirectories and directory contents as for determining a layer order for the plurality of layers, wherein the layer order determines a display corresponding to the objects from the plurality of objects in the corresponding layers. MW# on page 105 in fig. 4.2 illustrates directory and subdirectories. For example: to create a directory (can be called layer) in windows environment is inherent, because a person skill in the art would have called a new directory as HARDWARE and storing all files with the same extension (.hlp). The same routine for creating a second directory can be called SOFTWARE and storing all files with the same extension (.exe). The mentioned two directories are considered as two different layers or categories with distinguishable display attributes. Above all that a SCANDISK command is inherent. A person skill in the art would have run this command to manage a hard drive. The SCANDISK command goes into error recovery trying to fix the bad clusters by reading them many times and then re-writing and testing them again and mark the bad cluster with a letter B also rearranging the sys files and directories (different layers) with different attributes display a graphical object.
